

PRODUCTION NOTE: Like this to have a bit of stylised whimsy to it. Like the Daylesford TV Commercials. Music suggestion: Celtic, folklike, countryside

FEMALE: Last year I gave some jams and sauces. My sister still raves about them....

MALE: A found this sensational bottle of local red, and gave it to my wife. We drank it on her birthday.

OLDER WOMAN: There's a little farmhouse down the road that knits all their own clothes...Brilliant.

MALE: My cousin loves organic produce, so I gave her some locally marinated olives.

ANNCR: All these gifts are local gifts. Made and supplied by our neighbours, friends local shops and farms.

This Christmas, give something that comes from Deni.

It's the gift that gives twice.

FV2: There's a little store that sells the coolest woollen socks ...

V1: When you buy something locally and give it as a gift, you're giving something more than just the item.

FV2: And soy candles too!

V1: You are proudly giving a part of the area that you belong to.

FV1: Last year I gave some jams and sauces.

V2: You are giving a little piece of yourself.

FV1: Sister still raves about them....

ANNCR: All these gifts are local gifts. Made or supplied by neighbours, friends, local shops and farms.

V1: Great things happen when you shop in Deni. Shopping in Deni is the gift that gives, twice.

V1: Thank you

V2: You're welcome

V3: Thank you...

You shouldn't have

Gee thanks.

Just what I always wanted

That's fantastic.
